1. An antiaircraft artillery unit about 50 men strong has been quartered since the beginning of 1955 in a former metal workshop located north of Vochoz. The barracks (see the sketch, point 1) lie between the Krimice - Kozolupy road and a railroad line; the area of the barracks is 150 meters long and 100 meters wide. There are three single-story buildings in the area, each about 15 x 30 meters large, which are used as living quarters and garages. In October 1955 construction of a new kitchen and messhall started. On 25 October 1956 about a hundred new recruits were expected to arrive.
2. The gun positions of the above unit are located northeast of Radcice. The southern position (see point 2) has six guns and is about 250 meters north of the Radcice - Pilsen road and west of the elevation point 386 meters.
3. The northern position is by the southern edge of a wood south of the elevation point 378 meters; it contains four AA guns, (see point 3). Between the road and the elevation point 386 meters there are three wooden huts, each about 8 x 15 meters large, (see point 4).
4. The AA guns are on four-wheel undercarriages; their barrels are about 3 - 4 meters long, caliber about 80 millimeters, and the recoil system is on both sides of the barrel.
5. The unit is commanded by an unidentified major.
